College Press Association.==Important Meeting Held in Columbia.

The delegates from the various colleges of the State to the State Press Association met in Columbia on April 15, where interesting programs were carried out at each session at the University.

This was the 4th annual meeting of the organization. It was formed four years ago to further the magazine work in the various institutions, and to bring the staffs into closer touch with each other. The first two meetings were held at Clemson, and last year it was held at Wofford.

The meetings now are interesting and the delegates strive to carry on the work in a more business-like way, in order to have better results. At this last meeting, the organization was put on a firmer and more lasting basis. There were four business meetings, and at all these important matters discussed and all necessary amendments to the constitution were adopted.

At one of these business meetings, the judges made their decision as to the winner of the best short story. The winner was Mr. W. C. Curry, of Wofford. The decision as to the poem and essay was not made then.

Clemson College, this year, was represented by Messrs. Byars, L. P., and Sanders, H. K. These are important men on the staff of Clemson's magazine, Mr. Byars being business manager, while Mr. Sanders is one of the literary editors.

The officers, chosen by colleges and later selected by the various institutions, come from the following colleges next year: The President comes from Newberry College; the 1st Vice President from Erskine; 2nd Vice President from Greenville Female College; Recording Secretary from Presbyterian College; Treasurer, University of South Carolina; Corresponding Secretary, Winthrop College.

A good constitution now governs the organization, and all the magazines hope to accomplish great things through the co-operation of the various institutions represented each year.

Clemson Lost to Trinity by a Narrow Margin.

In a slow, long drawn-out game, enlivened at times by sensational plays, Clemson lost to Trinity by the score of 8 to 7. At first, it looked as if the Tigers had the game cinched, but a few costly errors enabled the Trinity boys to get a lead which the Clemsonites never quite overcame.

In the last inning, it looked as if Clemson might tie the score. With two men down, Coles hit a hot grounder to third, who errored, and the Tiger Captain was safe on 1st. He then promptly purloined 2nd. Cochran, next man up, lined out a beautiful three bagger in deep left, and Coles scored. The hopes of the Clemson rooters ran high, but Kirby knocked a long fly to center field, leaving Cochran between 3rd and the plate.

Wood, who pitched the first part of the game for Clemson, seemed to have an off day, being unable to get them over the plate. Rivers relieved him in the 5th inning, and pitched a good game, blanking the visitors in the last three innings.

"Bone" Cochran, as usual, was there with the goods in the batting line, securing a home run and a three bagger. Gantt, pitcher for the visitors, was their bright star in batting, securing a home run and connecting every time he came to bat.

Score by innings:

Trinity	1	0	1	3	1	2	0	0	0
Clemson	2	0	0	0	2	0	2	0	1

Tigers Win Track Meet From Tech.

The Tigers and Yellowjackets met Saturday afternoon at the Tech park. The Clemson boys won from Tech by a score of 80 to 28.

The Clemson boys certainly did run. Byrd was a star. Friday at Georgia, he broke the S. I. A. A. record for the 220, and Saturday was only one-fifth a second behind his record.

Tech only got one first place. The high jump. This was made by "Smithy" Ayers.

The Tigers have a good track team and the men are in the best of condition.

Fleming, who played tackle on the Tiger football team, threw the hammer and put the shot. He took first place in both.

The events were as follows:

100 yard dash—Byrd, Jacobs (Clemson), Ayers, (Tech), time 10 seconds, flat.

Hammer (16 pounds): Fleming, (C.) 114 feet, 10 3-4 inches; Davis, (T.) 98 feet, 10 1-2 inches; White, (C.) 79 feet.

220 yard dash: Byrd, (C.) Jacobs, (C.) Ayers, (T.) time 23.2.

220 hurdle (low): Hanckle, (C.) Coleman, (T.) Myers, (T.) time 29.

Broad jump: Byrd, (C.) McRae, (T.) Stephens, (C.) distance 21 feet.

High jump: Ayers, (T.) Yow, (T.) Ferdick, (C.) height 5 feet 1 inch.

440 yard dash: Byrd, Epps, Garrett, (C.) time 55.1.

Shot put: Fleming, (C.) White, (C.) Patterson, (T.) 35 feet 11-2 inches.

Mile: Pridmore, (C.) Yow, (T.) Moore, (C.) time 5 minutes 6 seconds.

120 yard hurdle, high: Hill, (C.) Stephens, (C.) White, (C.) time 17.3.

Half mile: Barnett, (C.) Artley, (T.) Epps, (C.) time 2 minutes 12.2 seconds.

Pole vault: Ferdick, (C.) Stephens, Hauckle, (C.) 9 feet 6 inches.

The officials were as follows: Judges, Professor Carpenter, Kell and Turner. Referee, Charlie Sweet. Timers, Randle and Calhoun. Starter, Sinclair. Scorer, McDowell. Announcers, Baldwin and Smith.

Cadet Jeter an Assayer.

Cadet R. P. Jeter of the Senior Class, who has been pursuing the mineralogical course, has been granted a leave of absence till examinations begin. He has gone to take up the work of assayer of a large copper mine near Silver, N. C. The mining establishment is a large and prosperous one, and the position of assayer is quite desirable. The company has agreed to let Mr. Jeter off long enough to come back and stand his examination. Mr. Jeter is a brilliant scholar, which is shown by the fact that the faculty gave him more than a month's leave; an energetic and unassuming young man of the highest moral character and gentlemanly instincts. He is very popular among the boys and faculty, therefore he leaves many friends wishing him the greatest success in his new field of work.

De Story Tellin' Time.

When de sun hab' finished settin',
An' de night comes creepin' 'roun'
An' de No'th-win' 'roun' de gables
Makes dat awful moanin' soun';
W'en de whippurwill starts cryin',
Hear disnes', down by de brook;
An' de trees begin dey're sighin'
In some drefful swampy nook.

Den de pickaninnies tremble,
An' dey git close to de light,
Fer dey fears dey'll see a goblin'
Comin' in from out de night.
In de dark he sure could git 'em,
Tie 'em all up in er sack,
Throw 'em 'cross his gret big saddle,
Take 'em where dey'ed not git back.

Den ol' Daddy looks at Mammy,
Wid a twinkle in his eye,
Seemin' lack he wants permission
Fer a story den to try.
An' de chilluns snuggle closer,
Listenin' in a 'tentive way,
Fer dey allers laks dese stories;
Always sceery, anyway.

Den Dad tells de awfulest stories
'Bout ghosts and hobgoblins and such,
Till we mos' see 'em dere in de corner,
But we acts lak we're not afeerd—much!
But we is, I can tell you we'se tremblin',
An' feered fer de bed-time ter come,
An' we thinks of de ghosts what's assembli',
An' we shiver until we're mos' numb.

At las' all de stdries is over,
An' all of us chillun's in bed;
We see goblins dere on de kiver,
An' de pillow goes over our head.
Dey'se de funniest noise in de corner,
Lak a ghos' comin' up thro de floor;
An' we calls Dad right dere an' tells 'im,
We don't want no stories—no mo'.

But dem days is done gone by ferever,
An' I sit by de fire at night,
An' tell de same tales to my chillun,
An' laff w'en I look at dey're fright.

College Orchestra Plays at Walhalla.

The College Orchestra, with its instructor, Corporal E. A. Bruggman, of the Coast Artillery Corps, played for a Literary Society Contest at Walhalla on the 16th. It was engaged by Supt. J. L. Kenneby, of the Walhalla schools. Prof. Kenneby is a graduate of Clemson, 1900, and was a member of the band while here.

Many good selections were played to a very appreciative audience. A number of comments were made upon the excellent music furnished by the orchestra.

During their stay the members were shown many attentions, and, because of their gentlemanly conduct, gained a warm spot in the hearts of the people of Walhalla.

The following was the program rendered:

"Two Sweethearts," Duet..... Bennet
 "American Patrol,"..... Meacham
 "The Elves," Overture..... Kiefer
 "Lucile Waltzes,"..... Taubert
 "Maurice Overture,"..... Bennet
 "Lenora," Schottische..... Kiefer
 "Loveland," Holymann
 "Ivanhoe," Tobani
 "Sincerity," Overture..... Barnard

The following compose the orchestra: L. D. Webb, J. D. Graham, V. B. Higgins, E. H. Pinckney, N. E. Byrd, E. A. McCreary, H. D. Plenge, T. A. Jeffords, J. R. Lomax.

Clem on Loses to Wofford at the May Festival.

In a slow, unexciting game, the Tigers were defeated by a score of 3 to 2. Wood was in the box for Clemson, and deserved to win his game. Clemson scored in the second and third innings, and would have scored again but for a ground rule which was not understood by some.

Several overthrows to 1st base by Clemson enabled Wofford to get two of her runs. This was due to the 1st base being about two feet lower than the diamond. However, Bull pitched a good game for Wofford, with the assistance of the catchy Glenn, who also brought in the winning run in the ninth inning by a two bagger.

Jno. D. Rockefeller (to his Sunday School class):
 "Jimmie, what did God say when he finished making the world?"

Jimmie: "All's well."

Jno. D. (eagerly): Did you say oil well?"

Trinity Takes Two More From Clemson.

Chester, S. C., April 24th.—The Tigers dropped two more to the North Carolinians, Saturday in Chester; the first, by a score of 4 to 1, and the second, 1 to 0.

In the first game, Trinity succeeded in getting two men around in the first inning. This was rather discouraging, but the Tigers pulled together, and played good ball during the rest of the game. Rivers pitched the first five innings, but he was not in his usual good form. Two more runs were got in the fifth inning; so, next inning, Lachicotte went in to relieve Rivers. During the remainder of the game, Lachicotte pitched good ball, striking out five men, and allowing only two hits.

Gantt, for Trinity, pitched a great game, allowing only four hits, all of which were scattered. At only one time was there much chance of his losing, when, with three men on bases, Kirby hit one out that looked good for three or four bases. However, Trinity's fast left fielder, Harris, went back and caught it, which made three outs.

Clemson scored in the eighth inning by the combination of a hit and an error.

Final score, 4 to 1.

Second Game.

Trinity took the second game by a score of 1 to 0. Wood pitched for Clemson, while Worley was in the box for Trinity. While Worley pitched a good game, the Tigers would certainly have gotten some runs had it not been for the gilt edge fielding of one or two of Trinity's men. Several times, balls went out that looked good for one or two more bases, but were got by the fielders.

The feature of the game was a one-hand stab made by Trinity's short stop, West.

Mr. W. Q. Latimer, an ex-Clemson pitcher, umpired both games.

Senior Jeter, in a debate a few nights since, informs us that the Panama Canal is a narrow strip of land connecting North and South America, and also informs us that the climate of the surrounding country is low and marshy. Mr. Jeter is a very conscientious and truthful man, therefore it must be true. Strange!

Prof. Furman: "Mr. Thompsons, name some of Goldsmith's writings."

"Eddie" Thornhill: "Gray's Elegy in a Country Church," and "The Gold Bug."

Classes

Senior Class.

The class rings have arrived, and although there was some difficulty in having them released by the Express Company, they are now in the hands of the ring committee. Members of the class are now receiving the much longed for ring with the two numerals "09."

On the night following the annual inspection by Capt. Lanahan, the Senior Class met in the Commandant's office for the purpose of securing "Campus Privileges." Altho much talk was necessary to convince the President and Commandant that the Senior Class deserved and was worthy of Campus Privileges, it was finally decided to give the class a trial. Every one has been doing his best to make it a succesful trial, and it is hoped that we will be able to wear "cits" and visit on campus until Commencement.

The Junior-Senior Dancing Club is to give their Annual May Hop on the night of April 23. This is the first dance given this spring, and every one feels sure that all will have a fine time.

Messrs. Hyre and Blair recently enjoyed a midnight automobile ride from Seneca to their home at Clemson College.

Mr. C. M. Wootan recently visited Greenville for the purpose of standing a Civil Service Examination for Mechanical Draughtsman at Panama.

Mr. W. C. Spratt made a trip over to Seneca; for the purpose of attending the skating rink.

Messrs. J. T. Folk and W. J. Sheeley went over to Greenville last Wednesday, for the purpose of standing a Civil Service Examination.

Mr. T. B. Reeves recently visited Greenville on Annual business.

Mr. W. C. Spratt left last Thursday for Spartanburg, where he is to attend the May Festival.

Mr. J. D. Graham went with the band to Walhalla last week.

We regret very much to hear that Mr. R. E. Blake was suddenly called home on account of sickness.

Junior Class.

Invitations are now out to the Annual May Hop, which is given by the Senior-Junior Dancing Club. This is one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season, and, from all indications, there will be a large crowd present.

Mr. C. M. Robbs spent Easter with relatives and friends at his home in Gaffney. All of a sudden, there has arisen a great affinity between Charley and Gaffney.

Mr. W. D. Barnett spent several days last week at his home near Westminster. He, too, has some very dear friends over near the Georgia line.

We regret to report that Mr. S. O. Pegues was called home the first part of last week on account of the sudden death of his father. However, Mr. Pegues returned to College last Sunday, and has now resumed his studies. The members of his class, as well as the other members of the corps, extend their sympathy to him.

Mr. E. C. Martin paid his friends near Central a visit on April 17. E. C. lives near the College and makes good use of this advantage.

Mr. W. M. Hodge so far forgot himself as to learn from his study of history that one of the great European leaders died of chagrin. As the weather was getting rather warm, and "Froggy" did not feel very much like drilling, he placed his name on the sick book, and marched with the sick, lame and lazy squad to the hospital. Finally, the doctor reached his name and said, "Well, Mr. Hodge, what seems to be your trouble?" Then "Froggy," glad to have found something new besides weak eyes, knowingly replied, "Doc, I have a very severe case of chagrin in my right arm, and would like to get excused from drill." Mr. Hodge found out soon after his return to barracks why "Doc" smiled, and so flatly refused to grant his request.

Societies

The Columbian

At last we have waked up and begun the real work, such as we have not had since the March exams. For the president, our monster foot-ball and heavy-weight track man, says that during his term of office we must work, and began by appointing a committee to see those new men who were on duty and get them to promise to come out with something prepared.

The officers for this term are: "Monster" Fleming, president; A. C. Whittle, vice president; G. M. Barnette, literary critic; F. R. Baker, recording secretary; P. A. Baxley, corresponding secretary; H. S. Johnson, prosecuting critic; J. M. Martin and L. S. Lindler, reporting critic; and C. F. Johnson, sergt. at arms. With these men at the head of us, we have no fear of not doing our best work.

Our last meeting was one of the best of the year; for Messrs. Wall and Wiggins gave creditable declamations, while Mr. Parker, F. F., gave a varied report on current events. As the orator of the evening was absent, Mr. Hayden, C. J., volunteered, and delivered an oration that would do credit to almost any member of the society. His example should be an inspiration to others.

The debate was carried on by Messrs. All, F. H., Barre, J. H., and Harris, A. G., who held up the affirmative; while they were met by Messrs. Baker, F. R., Hydrick, O. A., and Carothers, J. N. After some discussion, the judges decided in favor of the negative; but the house was divided and voted a tie, which was broken by the president deciding in favor of the negative, also.

Now, fellows, we have only a few weeks more, and let's make that the best of the college year and of the course, if we be serious.

The Calhoun.

The Calhoun Society, thanks to a faithful few, still has good, lively meetings. At our meeting of April 16, despite the fact that this is spring and there is such a tendency to "beat out," we had unusually good exercises. A good, snappy debate is a very important factor in society work, and we were glad to see it in our last meeting. We are only sorry that we had so few of our members present to enjoy it with us; but then we guess they were busy "studying for examinations," or some such worthy cause. (?)

Fellow members of the Calhoun, why wait to be invited to your own society? It needs you, and it is your duty to yourself and to the society to be present every time you can. The more work you put into the society, the more you will get out of it. This should be plain to you by this time. Where are all your god resolutions?

We were glad to have with us three visitors, each of whom gave us a short address. Need we again say that they are always welcome to our hall?

Y. M. C. A.

The association work is up to its usual standard. It has been customary for the interest to lag at this time of year, yet, so far, no perceptible difference has been noted.

Rev. Massabeau of Greenville made an address last Sunday night on, "The Ministry as a Life Work." There were a good many boys out to hear him. Possibly Clemson's one graduate who is a minister will not be alone in a few years.

Mr. Hubbard has organized a leaders' class for a study of the Bible on the whole. Every Thursday night, nearly forty men meet and listen to Mr. Hubbard. While the Bible study courses take up only certain parts of the Bible, the men lack a conception and knowledge of the Bible as a whole.

The men who are going to Asheville are working to get others interested. The delegation intends to be the largest one from a Southern college.

The cabinet had a meeting recently at which the financial state of the Y. M. C. A. was discussed.

Mr. Mills has given the Bosworth leaders some excellent talks this year. If every leader could say that he has attended as regularly as Mr. Mills, he would have a perfect record.

The questions: Why "Shote" Pridmore was so anxious for Senior privileges? Why he regrets so much the campus does not take in the neighboring towns?

Track is a more important branch of athletics than it is generally recognized to be.

Just as class foot ball is necessary for the maintenance of a good varsity foot ball team, so is it necessary for the maintenance of a good varsity track team for the men to go out and try for class teams on fields day. Of course, they must not depend upon waiting till Field Day, then go out, but must begin practicing now.

Still there is something more to work for than the making of the varsity next year, the honor of holding the trophy cup. The classes are so evenly matched that it is impossible to tell now which one is likely to be the successful class.

Although we are not a crowd of college girls, and should not need to be continually cautioned about the excessive use of the tongue, still we say at times a great many things that would be better if they were never said. This world would be a hundred fold better if half the things said were left unsaid. The habit of saying things about students, members of the faculty, or any one else is a habit which is easily formed, and has lasting effects; still it is from the beginning wore than useless. When we find ourselves even thinking of saying light, thoughtless remarks about other people, we should by all means curb our thoughts, and, above all, our tongues, right then and there; for the habit will make steady progress, and the next thing we know, we are telling everything we know, hear or even think of. Before we are aware of the fact, we are confirmed tattlers, infecting pure, innocent hearts and minds with detestible tales which are worse than unnecessary. If we must atlk, why not speak pleasant words instead of unpleasant ones? One is as easily said as the other, and one affords so much more pleasure to the person speaking, and also to the one spoken of, than the other. They both alike will travel on and on; but unlike, one will bring hatred and unpleasantness, while the other will bring pleasure and happiness. When we are prompted to repeat something we have heard, we should ask ourselves these questions: "Am I sure it is true? Will it make some honest heart happy? Is it necessary? If we can in all honesty give an affirmative answer to these questions, we may repeat the story without fear of evil results.

“I’m not in the stealing business, but I think I’ll learn the trade,

For it comes in mighty handy when you’re sitting in

Of some pretty, leafy bower, with your sweetheart sitting by,

And you ask if you may kiss her, and the answer in her eye

Seems to tell you that she’d like it, but her lips still answer ‘No.’
